

CHANGE STARTS HERE CAN WE COUNT YOU IN?

Join the Collections Working Group

The Goulbourn Museum is looking for new voices to help build collections that are representative of our diverse community.

The varied experiences and knowledge of the Collections Working Group (CWG) volunteers will guide decision making and ensure the stories preserved by the Museum are representative of the community.

By voting at meetings, volunteers will have a say in how their stories should be told and what the legacy of their community should look like.

The CWG is made up of a pool of volunteers (a maximum of 20).

Meetings take place once a month to start but sessions may vary based on the number of artefacts needing to be assessed.

Meeting times are booked to accommodate the availability of the volunteers and may be held in person at the Museum or via Zoom.
